Teaching

After providing teaching assistance to several courses in Statistics and Econometrics during the period 1989 to 1998, I started teaching courses of 'Introductory Econometrics', 'Econometrics' and 'Program Evaluation', both at the Facoltà di Scienze Statistiche and at the School of Economics and Business Administration at the University of Padova, covering all the topics of classical econometrics and modern micro-econometrics including the econometrics of program evaluation.

Currently, I teach an undergraduate course of 'Introductory Statistics' and a master course of 'Social inequalities' at the Department of Sociology and Social Research, University of Trento.

In the past years, I also taught 'Structural Modelling in the Social Sciences' in the doctoral program in Statistics, Department of Statistics, University of Padova.

I supervised several doctoral students working at their dissertation. By now, three of them hold an academic position:

Erich Battistin, Professor, Queen Mary College, London;

Margherita Fort, Professore associato, University of Bologna;

Omar Paccagnella, Professore associato, University of Padova.

I repeatedly taught selected topics in micro-econometrics at the School for Doctoral Students of the Consorzio Italiano di Econometria.

Since 2008, I also teach at the annual IRVAPP Winter School on Program Evaluation. Special editions of this School have been delivered to the staff of the Research Department of the Bank of Italy (2008, 2013, 2015).

Academic journals I served as a referee

American Economic Journal: Macroeconomics, American Economic Review, Annales d'Economie e de Statistique, British Journal of Industrial Relations, Economics of Education Review, Economics Letters, European Sociological Review, Evaluation Review, Journal of Applied Econometrics, Journal of Applied Statistics, Journal of Econometrics, Journal of Educational and Behavioral Statistics, Journal of the European Economic Association, Journal of Human Resources, Journal of Labor Economics, Journal of Official Statistics, Journal of Political Economy, Labour, Labour Economics, Research in Economics, Scandinavian Journal of Economics, Statistica, Statistical Methods and Applications.

Main research interests [please, refer also to the list of publications]

After working on measurement errors in national accounts and their impact on the estimation of macro-econometric models, I moved to micro-econometrics, working with qualitative and limited dependent variable models. In particular, at the time of my doctoral dissertation, I worked on the modelling of female labour supply in Italy in the presence of institutional constraints on the working week length.

My main research interest over the last 25 years has been the econometrics of program evaluation within the more general issue of drawing inferences on causal parameters both in observational and in experimental settings. My research includes both studies on methodological issues - in particular, methodological advances on the Regression Discontinuity Design - and on case studies - in particular, the evaluation of public interventions and more generally the estimation of structural parameters in the field of labour, welfare and education.

Other research deals with issues of measurement of unemployment and participation at work and measurement of inequality and poverty. Measurement issues and the related matter of accounting for measurement errors in the estimation of structural models have been a concern throughout my research career.

Research grants and awards

- 2015-2018 Member of the scientific committee: Research project co-funded by the European Commission on “Mentoring technology enhanced pedagogy”, in charge of the impact evaluation design.
- 2015-2017 Member of the scientific committee: Research project co-funded by the DG Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion on “Affording college with the help of asset building”, in charge of the impact evaluation design.
- 2013-2014 Member of the scientific committee: Research project co-funded by the DG Employment, Social Affairs and Inclusion on “Post-secondary vocational training course: are they effective for Italian unemployed youth with a high school diploma?”, in charge of the impact evaluation design.

- 2005-2007 Project Leader: Research project supported by the Italian Ministry of University and Research on “Evaluating the impact of public interventions: methods and case studies”.
- 2003 Project Leader: Research project supported by the Italian Ministry of Welfare on the impact of benefits to redundant employees on their subsequent labour market history.

I have been awarded the Società Italiana di Statistica prize for the best doctoral dissertation among those defended in the period 1987-1990.

Committees and administrative duties

Since 2008 I contributed to the design and the establishment of FBK-IRVAPP, a Research Institute for the Evaluation of Public Policies operating in Trento. Currently, I am Research Director at the Institute. As of January 2016, the Institute research staff consists of 11 junior and five senior members, plus some PhD students working on research projects related to the mission of the Institute. FBK-IRVAPP regularly provides impact evaluations of policies adopted by the Provincia Autonoma di Trento in the fields of labour, welfare, education and incentive to firms. The Institute also evaluated a World Bank development project in Nigeria. In recent years, the Institute, together with other partners, took part in competitive calls issued by the European Commission and was awarded three grants.

- 2013-2014 Member of the Scientific Committee on the monitoring and evaluation of labour market policies - Italian Ministry of Labour.
- 2009-2013 Member of the Senato Accademico at the University of Padova.
- 2009-2011 Dean of the School of Economics and Business Administration at the University of Padova.
- 2000-2002 Member of the Steering Committee on the use of Social Security data in official statistics – Italian National Institute of Statistics (Istat).
- 2000-2001 Member of the Commission for Inquiry on Social Exclusion - Italian Prime Minister Cabinet.
- 2000 Member of the Commissione di Garanzia sull'Informazione Statistica, panel on official statistics on participation at work, earnings and labour cost.
- 1996 Report to the Commission for Inquiry on Social Exclusion - Italian Prime Minister Cabinet: on the relationship between participation at work and poverty.
